2. Definitions

Terminology of the ISO/IEC 17065 and ISO/IEC 17025 and the related Directive is used.

3. Contracting

The Quotation and the Contract is issued in the same form. Once the client accepts the price of the quotation which is included in the „Quotation Summary, Order” part, it automatically becomes a contract.

In order to officially be contracted, it is necessary to accept the General Business Terms and Conditions, which is done by signing the Quotation Summary, Order.

Validity of the contract is only valid until the related certificate is valid. During this period, CerTrust has the right carry out any necessary assessments at the client.

In case of Module B, the client related registration number is issued in advance by CerTrust with the quotation. CerTrust reserves the right to make changes to the registration number, therefore CerTrust do not accept any financial claim arising from the change. The registration number only valid once the certification is officially signed and issued.

4. Testing procedure

Product tests are carried out in the CerTrust laboratories or the assessed subcontracted laboratories with CerTrust. If necessary, those tests can be carried out in other places, only if every condition is acceptable to the relevant requirements, defined and accepted by CerTrust experts.

The test reports shall prove that the product complies all of the standard requirements.

CerTrust verifies that the test methods, test parameters, and the measured results are conforming to the requirements of the relevant requirements.

The product shall comply with all relevant legal regulations, if any.

The cost of sending samples to CerTrust is charged to the client. Also the client responsibility to send all the necessary documents (such as technical data sheet - TDS) to CerTrust.

CerTrust only accept the documents is English. The tests are carried out according to the relevant standard.

In case of Quality management system audits, the client need to provide all the relevant documents (such as manual, procedures, technical documents, forms).

The product documentation shall comply with the requirements of the relevant standard or normative document.

At the end of the testing procedure, the client get the test report and/or assessment report and/or audit questionnaire and/or audit report.

CerTrust has the right to publish the clients name, address and certificate as the reference list.

4.1 Storage the test samples and documentation

CerTrust store all the samples and documentations 3 months in case any fault of the client.
